Lemon Grove resident wins classic car contest

In Rancho San Diego last Saturday, the sun was not the only red-hot item around. It had plenty of competition from various chilies as well as from classic cars.

As the Bunsen-burners flamed under the pots of chili on tables set up in the lot adjacent to Coldwell Banker of Rancho San Diego, classic cars were being parked and viewed behind the main area.

This year, Coldwell played host to a benefit classic car show and chili challenge for the Child Abuse Prevention Foundation. "We're real pleased with the turnout," said John Foutch, representative of the Child Abuse Prevention Foundation.

"A lot of people put a lot of effort into this, and for a first-time effort, it was quite organized. Next year will be even bigger and better," said Foutch.

The Best of Show went to Lemon Grove resident, Guy Allen, or rather, to his "racing red" 1936 Ford.

"Oh, we've had the car for years," said his wife Esther, "we drive it lots. We like to take it to parades and share it with everyone."

The Allens bought the car in 1974 from a neighbor when they were living in Spring Valley. Other East County residents competed for awards for something red-hot other than cars--chili.

Spring Valley resident Michael Brady cooked-up the World Title Company chili, which he says is a hot Texas-style with the special ingredient of carne asada.

"I was up 'til 3 o'clock cooking it. This is my first chili contest, but my recipe is from way back, I've been cooking since I was 6 years old."

But not every chili maker went with a well-tested recipe. The HomeFederal team which featured La Mesa resident Randy Smith, came up with their final chili concoction after four hours of experimentation the night before the Challenge.

"We came up with the name a couple of weeks ago when they needed a name for the entry form," said his cooking partner Danny Valentini, an El Cajon resident, originally from Canada.

"People couldn't imagine that we know how to make chili in Canada, so I decided we should call it Canadian chili," he said.

Neither of these chilies was chosen by the judges for the various categories. Home Savings of America won third place with their Loan Star Chili, cooked by Patti Vail. Second place went to Tom Holmes, an independent entry, for his "Dr. Holmes Medicinal Chili."

When the award for Best Chili was announced (the chilies were known to the judges only by numbers), no one came forward to identify themselves as the winner.

Other chili awards included one for "best display," which went to "Bobs Buffalo Butt Chili."

The People's Choice Award, which is the only chili judged by the crowd rather than the judges, went to Brian Riese of Title, for his "239 Bean Chili."

The day's entertainment included Elvis impersonator Eddie Powers who wiggled in a white studded suit and had people singing along to "Jail House Rock."

There were pony rides for the kids, who didn't mind standing in the heat waiting for their turn on the pony-go-round.

School Days!

Golden Avenue Elementary School students board the bus and begin walking home, thus ending their first exciting day of the new school year.

Rosenberger wins Bates' award

U.S. Congressman Jim Bates (D-San Diego) announced his choice of Margaret "Peg" Rosenberger as the 44th Congressional District Citizen of the Month for July.

Originally from St. Paul Minnesota, Peg has resided in Lemon Grove since 1952. She retired in 1987 and has been a wonderful volunteer at the Senior Center since. She was selected as the Volunteer of the year for the Nutrition Program Award from Supervisor Bailey's office.

Margaret also received the Huebsch Award for over 380 hours of volunteer work at Lemon Grove Nutrition Center. She received the plaque from Huebsch and it will hang at the Senior Citizen Hall in Lemon Grove. She is secretary of Project Council, and is very active in her church at St. John of the Cross, where she is a long-time member. She was a Soroptimist nominee for Woman in Action. Rosenberger also volunteers at the Lemon Grove VFW Post once a month distributing federal surplus commodities.

Her five children live all over the state of California. Andy lives in Sacramento and works for the Federal Government as an auditor in the Department of Auditing and Investigation. Jim lives in Hermosa Beach and owns his own business, "Any Laminating Service." At one time, he was the mayor of Hermosa Beach. Tom lives in Spring Valley and is a Captain of the Lemon Grove Fire Department. Marty lives in San Diego and works as a production controller for Sundstrand Turbomach. Her daughter, Kathy Buttrick also lives in Lemon Grove. She is a kindergarten teacher's aid at Golden Avenue Elementary School.

The Lemon Grove VFW Post # 2082 will hold a Blood Drive which will provide all donors with a free cholesterol screening and a mini-physical, on Sunday, September 16, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at 2885 Lemon Grove Avenue (near Alpha Beta).

The cholesterol screening test is performed during routine testing of the blood, and results are sent to the donor approximately one week after the donation.

In addition, each donor receives a medical history review and mini-physical, which includes blood pressure, pulse, temperature and iron level checks.

For example, family coverage may be obtained by designating one donation of a Blood Assurance Plan, which provides unlimited blood usage free of charge for the donor, spouse, and children under the age of 19.

Donors may give in the name of a group which has a Blood Reserve Fund to provide blood-replacement coverage for all members.

Expectant mothers and their babies also may be covered from the date of donation, until two weeks after delivery.

Grossmont Hospital Auxiliary benefit "Celebrate America" Fashion Show features new clothes for fall season

by Lindy Magner

Grossmont Hospital Auxiliary members temporarily turned in their work togs to model the latest fashions last Friday at a benefit luncheon for the Grossmont Women's Center.

Featuring the fashions of Kay Hendricks, a women's boutique in Grossmont Center, the benefit had a "Celebrate America" theme, and miniature flags were carried by the models for a portion of the show.

"I'm absolutely enjoying this," said Linda Ollis, Director of the Grossmont Women's Center.

"What I like most is having social time to spend with the volunteers, I usually don't have that," she said while putting on 1920s-type rhinestone earrings to go with the black "Charleston" dress she would model next.

Other dignitary models were Lisa Branciforte, Associate Director of Grossmont Hospital, and Pat Chula, President of the Auxiliary.

Mary Lou Holmberg of Kay Hendricks Fashions was emceeing the show and running to the dressing room during a small break to give further instruction to the "models-for-a-day."

To end the show, I want you to do a snake through the tables so every one can be sure to see what you are wearing," said Holmberg.

Lemon Grove resident Margaret Griffen sported fashions for the petite woman, including a flowered print dress which came with a bag made from the same material.

Mt. Helix resident Delores Smolan seemed to be a natural at pivoting and posing, as she showed-off the fashions in front of the large crowd.

The audience of about 300 women and a gentleman here and there, sat watching intently at the tables where earlier a luncheon had been served.

Even though it was sweltering outside, the fashions inside were mostly geared to the fall season, with many "fun" furs being modeled.

The last portion of the show got the most attention, and featured cocktail and tea-length evening gowns.

All fashions seen will be available in the Kay Hendricks store located in Grossmont Center.

"We like to give shows to groups in our area where we have past customers and potential customers," said Holmberg.

Commentary

by Paul Treske

Only moderately noticed in the dramatic news reaching us from all over the globe, is an event that touches at the heart of the creation of our country.

On Sunday, September 9, Ellis Island in New York re-opened for the first time since 1954 with the dedication of a new museum chronicling the wave of European immigration that reached our shores from the late 1800s through the early 1920s.

When we teach the founding of our nation, we speak of Pilgrims and Puritans, of Washington, Adams and Jefferson.

But much of the true muscle of America arrived at those teeming gates of Ellis Island in the years which straddled the turn of the century.

This writer's parents, along with millions of others, sailed past the welcoming "Lady with the Lamp," and were "processed" at Ellis Island to begin their American odyssey. They were incredibly brave, those people who left homes in Russia, Poland, Italy, Ireland, Germany, Holland and many other countries.

At a time when the majority of people in the world were born, lived and died within the same small village or neighborhood, these future Americans dared thousands of miles of travel to an unknown shore to seek a better life.

Of course, not all of them found it, but from their ranks sprang a new life-blood for America. As they toiled, their off-spring grew, learned, and became doctors, lawyers, scientists, clergymen, legislators, and even presidents.

In all, more than 17 million immigrants passed through Ellis Island between 1892 and 1954. In a way, it is a saga unmatched anywhere in history.

For years after the last immigrants went through, Ellis Island lay in disrepair and ruin until privately-raised money enabled its refurbishing and the building of the new museum.

It is far too important a piece of American history to be allowed to go to waste. Now, its re-opening will allow many older Americans to relive a most significant part of their lives. For their children, it will give new meaning to the history of their country.

From Where I Sit

by Frank Andrews

One of the hazards of my father's bootlegging business during the "roaring 20's" prohibition era was the ever-present fear of a raid by the police or hijackers. The local cops were on Dad's gift list so he would be notified in advance of their current activities. The Feds, the "Untouchables," would always come unannounced, as would the rival bootleggers or hijackers.

"Ol' foxy Dad" usually had his illegal merchandise well stashed except for the booze on hand for daily use. That was my department. He had a barrel filled with either moonshine or grain alcohol buried in the field behind the house and marked by a designated rock. When Pop said, "Frankie, the tea pot is empty so go fill it up," I would go to the rock marker, insert a pump into the barrel and fill the tea pot. In case of a raid the tea pot could be easily poured into the sink.

Pop kept a big police dog named Elliot on the premises not just for a pet, but to protect our place from intruders. I can remember so well the night that the Feds made a very intensive raid on our property, searching for the contraband.

Elliot let the F.B.I. agents under the house and all over, but couldn't find the goods.

The next day, I couldn't find hide-nor-hair of that

A workbench that really worked traitor dog.

Daddy either put out a contract on him, or donated him to the F.B.I. as their "special canine agent."

My father was very clever with only a sixth grade education and I do believe that if he would have channeled his efforts in the right direction he could have been President of this U.S. of A.

Pop's "creme de la creme" creation for never-to-be-found whiskey stashing was a masterpiece--a home workbench that he designed and constructed. Besides being big and very well-built, it had a secret compartment that held 18 shiny square cans of the hooch. Pull out the two top end drawers, loosen two thumb screws, pull the huge top forward, and "voila!" --about $500 worth of the stuff.

No one besides Dad and myself ever knew about that fantastic workbench. I do believe that it helped keep Dad out of the slammer several times. After Frank, Senior, passed away, I used the workbench strictly for tools for many years. When I moved to California and had to auction off all my personal belongings, the mysterious workbench fell into the hands of a high-bidder.

I wonder if he ever discovered the hidden compartments, and if so, could he figure out what they were for?

Sports Commentary

by John E. Wirges

Chargers could be number one!

The San Diego Chargers took a giant stride last Sunday in earning the first-round pick of the 1991 National Football League collegiate draft, a dubious honor going to the team with the worst record of the season.

It might be a little early, but from the way they opened the season, it would appear that San Diego is right up there for an early selection in next year's draft.

The Dallas Cowboys were the worst team in the National Football League last year with a 1-15 record. Last Sunday, they beat the Chargers 17-14 in a travesty of blundering plays and near-criminally inept coaching.

And that was the easy part of the season. Sunday the Chargers host Cincinnati, 25-20 victors over the New York Jets.

And the schedule gets tougher and tougher from there.

The Chargers don't get a break until December 9, when they draw an open date.

The only bright spot in the Chargers' forecast of future events has to be sheer logic. The only way they can go is up.

The Bengals figure to delay the Chargers' climb out of the cellar with some nasty defense, a quickie "no-huddle" offense run under the free-flinging talents of quarterback Boomer Esiason and a strong coaching job.

Charger head coach Dan Henning magnanimously accepted blame for the inferior play and inadequate coaching of the season opener, as well he should.

Henning can't step in and quarterback the offensive, but game preparation, player selection and play-calling are his responsibilities. He didn't do a good job on any of it. On a scale of ten, Charger coaching hardly rated a two in the season opener. And now come the Bengals.

One hopes more resolute coaching can upgrade its contribution to Sunday's coming exercise with a bit more consistency on defense, a sounder running attack and a wider variation of receivers in the passing attack.

Quarterback Mark Vlasic didn't complete a pass to anyone except wide receiver Anthony Miller until the third quarter. A smart defense could learn to key on a thing like that. As it was, Miller was under double coverage most of the time.

And let's save the "tricks of the trade" garbage like fake punts until the Chargers learn the basic trade of playing professional football.

In the Seau-grapes report, juvenile play hurt the team again. A late hit penalty righteously flagged on Junior Seau in the fourth quarter moved the Cowboys into field goal range. The ensuing three-pointer gave Dallas the game-winning points.

One game does not a season make. Even such a sorry exercise as last Sunday's faux pas can be a base on which to build. All Coach Henning has to do is motivate his troops to execute to the level of their paychecks.

Has the Chargers' sorry beginning dimmed play-off hopes held almost universally by loyal San Diego fans?

Should the roar of support be softer or the dream of success less intense?

The Light Side of the Law

by Tom Tanana, J.D.

It's against the law to squirm your mouth, squint your eyes, or otherwise make ugly faces at a dog in Norman, Oklahoma. Just in time to remember this one on September 23, for Checkers Day, the day that recognizes the importance of certain top dogs on the landscape of American politics.

Checkers Day commemorates the 48th anniversary of Richard Nixon's Checkers speech, after which he was found "clean as a hound's tooth."

Of course, Nixon's cocker spaniel should stay as far away as he possibly can from Wananassa, New Jersey, where it's unlawful for a dog to be heard crying! But what if his master cries in a speech on national television?

FDR's terrier, Fala, would probably find International Falls, Minnesota a much more accommodating place to be, where an ordinance prohibits cats from chasing dogs up telephone polls.

Honest Abe Lincoln could have gotten arrested in Birmingham, Alabama for tying his mutt, Fido, to a shade tree.

Even if Fido preferred to lay, or lie, in the shade.

And LBJ's beagles would be branded criminals in Foxport, Wisconsin, if they grimaced when picked up by the ears. Dogs are prohibited from snarling there.

Speaking of politicians, Lebanon, Kentucky Ham Days will be celebrated September 22 and 23. They'll be having a Pokey Pig run and a Pigasus parade that you could write home about. These pigs would be confiscated though, and given to the poor, if Ham Days were held in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. It's against the law there for a pig to be caught roaming any place that's within 14 miles of any boat cruising along the Delaware River. Unless, of course, the pig wears a ring or is found in a yoke. Then the law can't touch him!

Lebanon will be serving a ham breakfast in the streets this week, which would be an illegal thing to do here in San Diego.

It's also illegal here to sell ice cream cones from a cart that you can peddle. Nor can you sell ice cream cones on a cart that is pushed by a monkey, or pulled by a zebra! You'll need a license for that first.

To think September 22 marks the 87th anniversary of the ice cream cone! U.S. Patent Number 746971, if you were interested. That patent was for a paper cone too! They started making it out of stiff pastry later.

Cleveland, Ohio's laws are even less friendly to ice cream cones than San Diego's laws are. An ordinance there makes it unlawful for an ice cream peddler to cry out his wares in a loud voice, or use anything more than a soft chime.

The International Banana festival may be trumpeted September 20-23 in Fulton, Kentucky, but bananas must be enclosed in panels of glass to be legally sold in San Diego. But this banana window law does not apply to stores that use "steam tables."

If the folks at Jackson County, Ohio's Apple Festival get to talking about our apple ordinance, when they congregate over

September 18 to 22, they might find themselves getting pretty steamed as well. Even though apples are almost always found in open store bins here, they cannot legally be displayed outside a refrigerator, at any temperature above 45 degrees. Even if the apples are fully encased by windows.

They had a festival for the local bridges last week in Washington, Pennsylvania. Drive over, but don't try to jump over, a bridge in Providence, Rhode Island, because they could fine you. I guess that only Superman has to worry about a law like that. Christopher Reeves celebrates his 48th birthday on September 25, by the way.

Arnold Palmer (who celebrated his 61st birthday last week) could get arrested in Albany, New York, if he drove or putted a golf ball over a covered bridge, even if he was just returning it to a putting green.

Mike Royko, who turns 58 on September 19, had better try his hand at shooting Arnold Palmer's golf balls with an iron instead of a gun. In spite of that, he better plan on taking his gun along with him anyway, if he visits Georgia and would like to go to church there.

Georgia law, requires you to equip yourself with a loaded rifle, and bring it with you into church, if you want to worship without committing a misdemeanor!

Just like guns, airplanes kill people too. September 17 marks the 81st anniversary of power air travel's first passenger fatality. And the pilot was none other than Orville Wright. But the Alaska legislature may have overreacted to this just a mite. They made it illegal there to look at a moose out of an airplane!

This column is just a light look at the law, and is not intended as legal advice. You may write to Tom Tanana, J.D. at P.O. Box 177110, San Diego, CA 92177.

Joe Freed on the Movies

The Summer's Best Movies

Well, the onslaught of summer movies has finally come to a halt and cinema lovers everywhere can look forward to the fall and winter season when studios release the serious productions in time for Oscar consideration. But before we wave good-bye to one of the most prolific summers in motion picture history, take a gander at my list of this summer's greatest movies. It was difficult to choose just ten, because this summer was blessed with many entertaining films.

Not to say that there wasn't an ample supply of worthless trash to be seen. Among the worst being the predictable "buddy" adventures, "Another 48 hours" and "Bird on a Wire," the overly violent "Young Guns II" and "Robocop 2," and the incredibly cheesy "Darkman."

Some readers may get angry at me if I've left out their favorite movies...but hey, I'm a critic. Your not supposed to agree with me.

My Top Ten Movies of the Summer*

1. Presumed Innocent ($60)
2. Flatliners ($33)
3. Ghost ($112)
4. The Two Jakes ($9)
5. Betsy's Wedding ($20)
6. Back to the Future III ($83)
7. Gremlins 2: The New Batch ($40)
8. Dick Tracy ($103)
9. Wild at Heart ($12)
10. Arachnophobia ($47)

* Films listed released May through August, 1990. Titles followed by summer gross in millions, as of August 26.

ECPAC presents classic silent comedy film, "The General"

Buster Keaton's silent film classic comedy, "The General," complete with authentic live music, will grace the stage and screen of the East County Performing Arts Center at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, September 22.

Under the auspices of the College of Extended Studies, the evening will feature the 1927 Keaton film, critically acclaimed as one of the comic masterpieces of the cinema. Also, a Laurel and Hardy silent short, "Big Business," will be shown.

In the pit, the San Diego Cinephonic Orchestra will accompany both films and play the music from the original cue sheets obtained from the Smithsonian Institute. Under the baton of Eric Behim, the Orchestra resembles in size and sound the pit orchestras which accompanied these films in the movie places of the 1920's.

As before, the tickets are moderately priced: $6 general admission and $5 for seniors and students. Seats may be reserved by calling the Center Box office at 440-2277.

Jazz Festival set for RSD Village

Sunday, September 16, from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. Rancho San Diego Village Shopping Center is putting on their First Annual Jazz Festival. Three jazz bands will be performing starting at 2 p.m. San Diego's own Most Valuable Players will lead off. At 3:25 p.m. Mark Lessman's Band takes over, followed by Hank Easton, with his Eastern West Band at 4:50 p.m.

A fine art show will be on exhibit during the festival. Food and drinks will be available as well as collector T-shirts.

California Ballet opens season

California Ballet Company will open its season September 14 and 15 with four premieres. The open air performances are scheduled in the Nautilus Amphitheatre at Sea World.

Ballerina Denise Dabrowski and soloist David Crookes will have the leading roles in Makarov's setting of "La Bayadere."

Dabrowski, a "home-grown" artist, received all her ballet training with California Ballet Schools. Her career has led her to visiting-soloist roles with local companies such as Threes' Company and Dancers, as well as with the San Diego Opera, Starlight Opera and the Phares Theatre Ballet of Sacramento.

Likewise, Crookes has danced with local companies, and began his career with the North County Ballet. He has also danced with the Pennsylvania Ballet.

"La Bayadere" offers Marius Petipa's choreography and the music of Ludwig Minkus.

The story tells of a young warrior's passion for both a Hindu temple dancer and the Rajah's daughter. The "dream act" to be presented will utilize 20 of the company's women dancers in classical fantasy as the warrior remorsefully dreams of his lost dancer.

Also scheduled for the season opening is "Ambiguous Obsession" by local choreographer, Patrick Nollet. This modern piece is set to the contemporary jazz music of Eddie Daniels and Kenny G.

During the holiday season, the Ballet will present "The Nutcracker," and in spring, the Ballet will present the Tokyo Festival Ballet.

The Sea World show is the Ballet's only outdoor performance of the season. General admission to Sea World is not required as entrance to the theatre, which can be accessed through the park's east gate.

For ticket information, call the California Ballet at 560-6741.

Tennessee Williams play at Rep

The San Diego Repertory Theatre will present Tennessee Williams' touching comedy, "A Lovely Sunday for Creve Couer," September 22 through October 13 on the Lyceum Stage.

Artistic Director Douglas Jacobs will direct this rarely produced work by one of America's greatest playwrights.

Williams wrote this play in the late 1970s and it was first produced at the Spoleto Festival in Charleston, South Carolina.

"A Lovely Sunday" is considered the "sunshine" play of a writer usually concerned with serious and emotional issues.

Director Jacobs believes that authors, at some point in their careers, are able to put aside their suffering and see true joy and beauty and optimism. Williams wrote this play late in life when he described his plays as chamber music, says Jacobs.

August Sundowner

You missed a good Sundowner at Barber's Trophies, Awards, and Silkscreening. Owner, Bob Grenfell, missed his own Sundowner because of scheduling problems. Bob's doctor scheduled him for knee surgery right when Bob thought he was going to have the chance to acquaint everyone with the changes he has done to his business. Bob really has improved and enlarged the business. He has a little of something for everyone. He also has gift items for that "difficult" person.

We had a very nice time at the Sundowner, our best wishes to Bob and we all hope he is a fast mender. Bob was worried he would have to cancel the Sundowner but at the last minute he had his employee stand in for him.

The winner of the Fishbowl was none other than Pete Kaufman, publisher of the Lemon Grove Review. Pete told us all it was about time he won, he has been waiting to win for over a year.

Everyone had a nice time and we wish Bob our best.

Update on Chamber DrawDown

It is amazing how well-laid plans can sometimes change so rapidly. We have made some pleasing changes to the time, date, and location of our one-and-only Chamber of Commerce fund raiser. So, find an eraser and correct your calendar.

The DrawDown will be held at 6 p.m., Saturday, October 27, 1990, at the Lemon Grove Senior Center, at 8235 Mount Vernon in Lemon Grove. The Chamber is excited to hold our big event in our fine city. We are sure you feel the same way. If it is a function of our city, then we should try to keep it in Lemon Grove.

The tickets will cost the same as last year - $50. It is going to be really fun for everyone, and you will enjoy being a part of this Second Annual DrawDown event.

The following information is for those who had not attended last year. The $50 cost of the ticket includes a sit-down dinner with all the trimmings, excellent service, delicious coffee, and a dessert to top off the meal.

Now, clear the tables, and we are off to the DrawDown. When you enter the hall you have to check in at the desk so your ticket stub could be put into the drawing hopper. If there are any ticket stubs unclaimed an announcement will be made for last minute arrivals. All ticket holders must be present to win.

Our DrawDown Committee has worked very hard this year to increase the prize list. Last year every other ticket drawn was a winner. Each year it depends upon the amount of items received as to how many tickets will be winners. The committee will decide how many numbers will be drawn between prizes. They also will make a decision if the first ticket drawn is to be a winner. DrawDown means that the last ticket to be drawn is the BIG winner of the evening. That last ticket holder will be the lucky person to take home $1,000. Carol Dorman, and Don Warrant being the last two ticket holders last year, agreed to split the money and they each laid claim to $500. All in all, it's going to be fun for you and your friends.

Maybe you will be the one with the last ticket in the hopper. Why don't you plan to attend and see who it will be?

Many other prizes will be awarded during the evening: Five $50 prizes, many getaway mini-vacations, brunches, dinners, fishing trips, harbor tours, and more.

If you would like more information on the DrawDown or if you are interested in being a prize donor, please call the Chamber office at 469-9621 between 9 a.m. - 1 p.m., Monday-Friday.

September Sundowner

We printed the same Sundowner name and location for two months. We apologize for the error and we hope you will all mark your calendars for September 26th so you can come to Lewis Engraving, 7951 North Avenue, Lemon Grove. Gary was so nice, he allowed us to move his Sundowner around to accommodate a recent retirement.

A Special Thanks

To the Concert in the Park Helpers

The five concerts in the park sponsored by the Recreation Dept. were bigger and better than last year. Many of our residents were there to see and hear some mighty fine music. The children had a ball the night of the Penny Fair, and the Chamber was there with a supply of hot dogs, soda, nachos, chili, and brownies for the hungry. Grove Pastry was generous and donated two very large cakes for two of the concerts.

The main person in charge of setting up and getting things ready this year was Deean McKee of McKee's Auto Reg on Broadway in Lemon Grove. Our Ways and Means chairman, Pete Smith, was unable to attend several concerts. He went back to Virginia Beach, VA to marry the girl of his dreams. They were high school sweethearts, and for some reason their lives pulled apart after graduation only to have their love rekindled this summer. Now, I ask you, if you were Pete wouldn't you go to Virginia under those conditions? He married the love of his life on July 28th. He is back home now, and things might be changing for him before long. Cherie, now Mrs. Pete Smith, is a sweetie and mother of two lovely girls, all three are still residing in Virginia Beach. Pete and Cherie are having a difficult time deciding which coast to call home. Time will tell. Selfishly, this writer would prefer they come west.

In Pete's absence, Deean McKee took over the Concert duties like she had been doing it all her life. Deean is a special person. At age 19 she started McKee's Auto Reg. Most young people don't know what they are going to do when they get up the next day, not Deean. She has been running her own business in Lemon Grove for the past 5 years. Thanks Deean, by stepping in for Pete, you gave him the time to follow his dreams.

A big THANKS to all those that helped set-up, tear-down, and operate the booth during the concerts. Many helpers were from Imperial Savings Bank, the Warrants were there as always, Jim Murphy was a big help, Century 21 Pearce, Lee Pearce gave a needed helping hand, plus Kevin Smith, Nicholas Cappiello, the Aldrich's and many more I have no doubt forgotten. You all made it possible for the Chamber to make inroads toward its yearly fund-raising goal and give service to the community.

We hope to see you all again next year, and don't forget to bring a hungry music lover.

Lemon Grove Day at the Del Mar Races

What a day to remember, August 24, 1990 at the Del Mar Turf Club. The Mayor Jim Dorman, wife Carol Dorman, Colleen Ruis of Letter-Kraft Printing, and myself Joyce Lazok, Exec. Vice President for the LG. Chamber of Commerce were the guests of the Turf Club in all senses of the word, excluding wagering. It was a day I got to see how the other side lives. They do a really great job of it. We sat in the club, having a delicious lunch, wine, coffee, champagne, dessert and friendly conversation.

We all pondered over the horses we would select for the coming races. When our decisions were finalized by either the horse's name, jockey, by suggestions printed in the newspaper, or a few mistakes made while standing at the ticket window. After wagering we would all meet back at the table to watch the race on closed circuit TV. You might think the Turf Club was filled with people not easily excited by the races. Well, not true! They really get into their horse races. Everyone was shouting for their individual horse to win!

Next year, the Turf Club is planning on another day at the Races. It means FREE admission for all Lemon Grove residents. Plan to make a day of it, relax in the warm sun and watch some of the most beautiful horse flesh at its best. This year only 19 residents took advantage of the free admission. Next year maybe you can take a break from your routine and be one of the race fans.

We thank the Turf Club and all its staff for a superior day on August 24th, Lemon Grove Day at the Del Mar Races.

What's happening in Lemon Grove?

Marder's Stationers:

Recently we noticed that Marder's Stationers is going to close up shop. Eleanor, the owner, and a know-it-all about cards and stationary has decided to retire. It will seem strange without her. Eleanor always knows how to solve your last minute problems concerning gifts, cards and many other daily dilemmas. If you haven't stopped by to say "Good-Bye" you are missing a "Good-Buy." Eleanor has marked down all items in the store. Eleanor, you will be missed and it won't seem the same without you.

Smart & Final:

A newcomer in our city will be Smart & Final. Under construction in the area of the "old" old Alpha Beta. The "old" meaning the place before the place Alpha Beta just vacated.

This one will be in the shopping area next to San Diego Trust and Savings Bank. Some additional shops will be going into the front and Smart & Final will occupy the larger back section of the building. Have you noticed, the entire shopping area looks like it is getting ready for a new "face lift?"

The corner of Massachusetts and Broadway:

Several years ago this area was the location of the Mobil Oil Station. It's been vacant since then, waiting for needed toxic waste clean-up. The Mobil Oil Company has finally taken steps by moving the dirt to a waste sight. Because of sustained petroleum spills over the years it is not fit for rebuilding until removal of the contaminated earth is completed. Recently, work has been going on in the area and the corner will hopefully take on a new look.

New General Manager at Grove Office Supply

We just wanted to congratulate John Tiffany of Grove Office Supply on his promotion to General Manager of Grove Office Supply. John is one of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce Directors and he is very supportive of our City and the Chamber. He is a sweet and caring person respected by everyone. We wish him much success with his new position.

Local Bobby Sox All-Stars place 4th in National Tournament of Champions

The Lemon Grove-Spring Valley Bobby Sox All-Stars returned home from San Clemente last week with a 4th place finish in the 24-team National Tournament of Champions.

The "Quicksilver" team, called so after their sponsor, attorney Mark Silver, had advanced to the Nationals after winning the district championship held in Yuma, Arizona in July.

LGSV's 10-11 year-old All Stars won 4 of the six games played at the Nationals, including a 12-2 victory over the Tucson team, Las Ninas, in the opener.

LGSV was locked in a 2-2 pitching duel through four innings before exploding for ten runs to clinch the win. Pitcher Jamie Wilson struck out 14 and allowed no hits to gain the victory. Hitting stats were first baseman Melissa Butts with two doubles, Jamie Wilson with a double and a single, and Kate Ledbetter with a double. Catcher Carlee Ledford and shortstop Nicole Peralta contributed a hit and an RBI each.

On Saturday, LGSV took on Los Angeles team, Newbury Park, and found themselves behind 11-1 in the third inning. A fantastic comeback ended a run short in an 11-10 loss. Second baseman Carlee Ledford and catcher Jamie Wilson each had two hits. Ledford scored three times.

Sunday's opponents were the San Francisco team, San Lorenzo, and the San Jose team, Foothill.

LMSV squeezed out a 3-2 victory against San Lorenzo. Shortstop Nicole Peralta, Second baseman Julie Wendell, and third baseman, Brandy Emberton scored the hard-earned runs. Emberton scored the game-winner on a Kate Ledbetter ground-out. Jamie Wilson tossed a one-hitter, striking out 11 and walking no batters.

The Foothill game was an exciting 12-11 come-from-behind win for LGSV. Down 11-7 in the last inning, Quicksilver rallied for five runs to pull it out. Left fielder Heather Sargent had two hits, including the game-winning RBI to give Julie Wendell the pitching win. Julie relieved starter Melissa Butts and struck out two, walking two in four innings of work.

Facing elimination, LGSV had a re-match with Newbury Park Monday morning.

This time out it was a low-scoring 2-1 victory for Quicksilver. Nicole Peralta knocked in Julie Wendell with the winning run, giving Jamie Wilson her fifth All-Star Tournament win without a loss. Nicky Geis scored the other LGSV run.

Eventual 1990 National Champion Cerritos was LGSV's next opponent. This game was another exciting nail-biter. With LGSV leading 10-7 after three innings, the tenacious Cerritos girls fought back for a 14-10 win, scoring 11 of their runs with two outs, nine on eight LGSV errors.

Versatile Brandy Emberton, catcher, went three for three. Pitcher Julie Wendell struck out two, allowing only five earned runs in the game. LGSV hit the ball well, with nine different girls getting hits, including Toni DeMaria and Nicky Geis.

Diana Julian and Lucy Verduzco made valuable contributions in all tournament games. Diana smacked two important hits, and Lucy threw out a runner at home to save a victory. LGSV finished the season as the fourth best All-Star team in the nation, and the top team in San Diego County.

For this achievement, we applaud coaches Tim Smith and Darrell Ledford, manager Kim Ledford, and chaperone Doreta DeMaria.

The girls chanted, "We'll be back," as they left the stadium, and with six girls returning next year, chances are they will!

League urges residents to vote in upcoming election

East County citizens can register to vote from September 14 to October 8. The League of Women Voters of Grossmont-Cajon Valley will staff registration tables at the Price Club in Santee, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

There are over 50 million citizens who remain unregistered to vote, even though they are eligible to register.

Half of all registered voters failed to vote in the last election, according to the League.

"Voter registration has been a primary focus of League for many years," says Grossmont-Cajon Valley League President, Eddie Cisco.

Meanwhile, the League has embarked on a voter education program for the November elections.

Any U.S. citizen who is a California resident and at least 18 years of age on the date of the next election may register to vote. Residents who have moved may re-register and forms can be obtained at local libraries.

Fall Festival to be held at St. John's

St. John of the Cross Church and School is organizing its annual Fall Festival which will benefit the education-building program.

Scheduled for September 28 - 30, the festival will feature ethnic foods including Mexican, Filipino, German, Italian and American.

Children's game as well as adult games will be available. The theme to the festival will be "the Turn of the Century," and there will be a costume contest.

The festival will take place on the church grounds.

Former local attorney visits

After living in Sydney, Australia during the last year, former local attorney and 15-year La Mesa resident, Byron Cornelius, and family spent his sabbatical leave last month visiting relatives and friends in La Mesa and Spring Valley.

After leaving the Lemon Grove law firm of Davies, Barwick and Knowlton in July of 1989, Cornelius has been doing legal work for the Australian branch of Jehovah's Witnesses that supervises the activities of 53,000 members there, and prints over one million copies of "Watchtower" and "Awake!" magazine in various languages of the South Pacific islands.

Twice last month, Mr. Cornelius addressed Witnesses from Lemon Grove, La Mesa and Spring Valley.

The kick-off meeting will be on Thursday, September 20, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the El Cajon Neighborhood Center.

The GCV League has adopted the Tox Babies issue for a year-long study.

A $2 donation has been suggested. The public is invited.

NOTICE
PUBLISHED DELINQUENT LIST
I, PAUL BOLAND, Treasurer-Tax Collector of the County of San Diego, State of California, hereby certify as follows:

That notice is hereby given that because of non-payment of the total amount due for taxes, assessments and other charges levied in the year 1988 for the Fiscal Year 1988-89 shown in dollars and cents opposite the description of the property contained in the list below, the real properties on which such amounts were a lien were, by operation of law, in my office at the County of San Diego, declared to be in default at 5 o'clock p.m., on the 30th day of June, 1989.

Tax-defaulted real property may be redeemed by payment of all unpaid taxes and assessments together with such additional penalties and fees as prescribed by law, or may be redeemed under an installment plan of redemption.

All information concerning redemption, or the initiation of an installment plan of redemption, of tax-defaulted property will, upon request, be furnished by PAUL BOLAND, Treasurer-Tax Collector, Room 162, 1600 Pacific Highway, County Administration Center, San Diego, CA 92101.

I certify under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

PAUL BOLAND
Treasurer-Tax Collector of San Diego County
Executed at San Diego, County of San Diego, on July 31, 1990

PARCEL NUMBERING SYSTEM EXPLANATION
The Assessor's parcel number when used to describe property in this list, refers to the Assessor's map book, the map page or block number in the book and the individual parcel number on the map page or within the block. A parcel number as for example, '448-692-12' would mean Book 448 of the Assessor's Maps, Block 692 (Page 69, Block 2) and Parcel 12 within that block. A sub-identification number of 01 or 02, etc., to a parcel, as for example, '448-692-12-01' would indicate multiple ownership or condominium. The maps referred to are available for inspection in the office of the Assessor.

All property hereinafter described is in the County of San Diego, State of California, all townships being south of the San Bernardino Base, and all ranges being either east or west of the San Bernardino meridian.

SITUS ADDRESS EXPLANATION
The street address of the property, if any is included as shown on the County Assessment Roll for each parcel declared to be in default. Parcels without an assigned street number are shown as street number 00000.
